Continuation of 2. NOTE: It is respectfully noted that Applicant's amendments to claims 7 and 13 are substantive amendments that will require a further search and consideration by the Examiner in order to determine patentability. It is respectfully noted that upon careful review and consideration of the Zhang et al. (US 6,115,088) reference, there is a motivation for the plurality of laminated insulating films, as noted in the Official Action at Column 6, Lines 6-12, in that at least the laminated film functions as a first insulating film. . .
